Annual simple interest and percentage yield

For the period of accumulation
Currency	Simple interest rate	Percentage yield ²
AMD	(CBFR ¹ + 4.02)%, currently 12.61%	12.61%
USD	(CBFR + 4.5)%, currently 4.83%	4.83%
Simple interest rate applied for distribution period	Interest rate set for "Bareketsik apaga" deposit at that point

¹ CBFR – Converse Bank CJSC Floating Rate. Is established by the Bank twice a year based on the primary rates, and unless the latter are accessible, based on the secondary rates. Once changed, the simple interest of the agreements is changed no sooner than in a months after notifying the depositor thereon.

Primary rates: for AMD – the yield curve of 180-day discount rate government bonds, published by the Central Bank of Armenia on <https://www.cba.am>; for USD and EUR – "USD 6-month ICE LIBOR" and "EUR 6-month ICE LIBOR" benchmarks accordingly, published by Intercontinental Exchange (ICE) on <https://www.theice.com>.

Secondary rates: for AMD – the CBA set refinancing rate; for USD – Federal Funds rate or the target range - Upper Limit set by the US Federal Reserve Bank; for EUR – the Marginal Lending Facility Rate set by the European Central Bank.

Upon inaccessibility to primary rates and application of secondary rates, the secondary rate-based simple interest rate at CBFR is established for deposits so that the amount of the simple interest rate remains unchanged upon the change of the fixed component of the deposit interest rate.

The established CBFR rates are published on the Bank's official site <https://conversebank.am/hy/kbht/> and are made available at the Bank.

The Bank can revise the floating interest rate of this deposit no more than twice a year. The upper limit of rise or fall of the floating rate is set at +/- 4 percentage points. The CBFR amount can be rounded up to one hundredth.

² Calculated based on the CBFR rates at the date of update of the information bulletin: 8.59% for AMD and 0.33% for USD.

NOTE

Income tax is taxable from interest payments at 10% for deposits opened in Armenia
at 5% for deposits opened in Artsakh

For cash redemption of deposit opened non-cash, commission is charged at 0.25% for AMD / 0.40% for USD

Calculation example

On below terms

Initial deposit	AMD 100,000
Opening day	13/12/2021
Maturity	10 years (until 13/12/2031)
Annual interest rate	12.61%
Payment of interests	At expiry
Income tax	10% from interest income
Adding	AMD 10,000 monthly

The deposit interest amount is calculated in the following manner:

Daily interest income before adding

100,000 (deposited sum) x 12.61/100 (annual interest rate) / 365 (number of days in a year) = 34.55

Daily interest rate after the 1st adding

110,000 (deposit balance) x 12.61/100 (annual interest rate) / 365 (number of days in a year) = 38.00

Daily interest rate after the 2nd adding

120,000 (deposit balance) x 12.61/100 (annual interest rate) / 365 (number of days in a year) = 41.46

The daily interest income increases after each sequential adding.

The interest income is accrued on deposit balance annually.

Pre-tax accrued interest: 1,266,562.23

After-tax accrued interest: 1,139,906.01

Total added sum: 1,190,000

Total deposit amount (initial deposit + added sums + after-tax interests): AMD 2,429,906.01

Calculated amounts are rounded up to one hundredth.

Annual percentage yield

The interest against the funds on your account are calculated based on the nominal interest rate, and the annual interest yield shows the income you would earn if you redeposited the interests generated against the deposit.

The annual percentage yield is calculated based on the following formula set under the CBA Regulation 8/02 “Calculation of Annual Percentage Yield of Bank Deposits”

$$APY=(1+r/n)^n-1$$

Where:

- APY – annual percentage yield
- r – annual simple rate
- n – number of capitalizations of interest in 1 year

General Terms for Opening of Deposit

1. Time deposit agreement is concluded between the Bank and the Depositor.
2. The expiry of the deposit agreement consists of accumulation and repayment periods.
3. Through the expiry of the deposit the depositor can voluntarily add any sum to the deposit unlimitedly according to the terms set for “Bareketsik apaga” deposit.
4. Any person can enter sums to the deposit account if the account details are available, while withdrawals are made only by the client or by a person authorized by him.

Calculation and Payment of Interests

1. The interests are calculated against the actual balance of the deposit from the day of opening of the deposit until the day preceding the day of its return to the depositor or withdrawal from the depositor’s account on other grounds.
2. The Bank calculates the interests at a simple interest rate, taking 365 days in a year or 366 days in a leap year as a divisor.
3. The interest amount is calculated on a daily basis against the account balance.
4. Where the time deposit is opened with a foreign currency, the interests are paid to the depositor with AMD at the respective buy rate set by the Bank at the date of payment for the respective currency or, at the depositor’s discretion, with the currency of the deposit.
5. At the maturity of the deposit accumulation period, the amount is to be returned to the depositor in his / her preferred form in the form of lump sum or regular payments.
6. The interests calculated against the deposit, unless the depositor has received in the period set in the deposit agreement, are paid by the Bank to the depositor on the latter’s demand.
7. Unless the depositor demand the redemption of the deposit and the payment of the calculated interest after expiry, the agreement is deemed renewed on the terms and conditions of time deposits applied by the Bank at that point, unless otherwise required in the customer’s deposit agreement or based on the customer’s written instruction.

Additional information

1. Time deposit accounts are opened and serviced free of charge.
2. The deposit account is closed once the deposit agreement expires.
3. No current banking transactions can be executed on the deposit account other than opening and redemption of the deposit.
4. The deposit is opened at branches from the savings account with the currency of the deposit; in the absence thereof, the deposit is opened free of opening and service charge.
5. The interests accrued on the deposit and the funds credited to the deposit account are paid to the depositor free of any commission.
6. The information about the deposit opened with the Bank is deemed bank secrecy and the Bank guarantees its confidentiality.

Early Termination of Deposit Agreement

- Where the time deposit is returned on the depositor's demand before expiry, the interests are recalculated based on the application, on below terms:
 - Upon termination of the deposit before the end of the 1st year from the day of opening, the recalculation is made at the interest rate applied by the Bank to demand deposit at that point (currently 0.1%);
 - Upon termination of the deposit after the end of the 1st year, the interests are recalculated in the following manner: the interests accrued and paid in 1 year preceding the termination date are recalculated in the manner set in the above paragraph; and the interests calculated and accrued before that (the final day of the year preceding the start of the previous 1 year) are not recalculated.
 - Upon termination in the distribution period, no recalculation is performed.
- Where the depositor dissolves the FX time deposit agreement on the condition of directly concluding a time deposit agreement with AMD on similar terms, the interests are not recalculated.
